

WHAT ARE NEOPARIÉS® AND NEOPARIÉS® LT AND HOW ARE THEY DIFFERENT?

Neopariés and Neopariés LT have many similarities:

- Always new appearance, wipe clean surface
- Nonporous and highly resistant to staining, pollution, graffiti
- No regular maintenance or re-sealing required
- Appropriate for wall cladding, kitchen and bath applications, furniture, etc.
- Perfect for interior or exterior use
- Composed of glass and ceramic
- Very smooth and reflective

However, they do have some important differences. Neopariés LT has a glossy, uniform appearance. It is also thin, so it can be cut and edged by those already equipped for flat glass fabrication. Because it is thin, it can be mounted with adhesive mastic, similar to mirror installation.

Neopariés has a crystallized visual texture more like granite or a simulated stone product like Silestone®. It is thicker and heavier than Neopariés LT. It installs vertically with mechanical anchors (clips and dowels), similar to natural stone and is suitable for use on exteriors of buildings. Neopariés is available in large flat and curved panels and is commonly used as a countertop material.

COSTS

COUNTERTOPS	Installed natural stone countertops range from $75-$100 / ft ² due to involved fabrication and installation costs. Due to the higher material cost of Neopariés, installed countertops are approximately 30% higher than that of natural stone.
PRODUCT ONLY	Approximately $60 / ft ²
CURVED PANELS	Approximately $120 / ft ² (material only)

PRODUCT ONLY	Approximately $30 / ft ² or $40 / ft ² cut-to-size

CUTTING AND FABRICATION

- Fabricates similar to dimensional stone
- Most closely resembles the hardness and tendencies of granite

- Cuts similar to annealed glass
- Edgework is needed if sharp edges are to be exposed after installation
- TGP can provide cut-to-size if needed, 3-4 week lead time

CUTTING AND FABRICATION

5/8" (most common) and 3/4" thick material require mechanical anchors, typical to dimensional stone. 3/8" product can be laminated to a substrate using a thin-set mortar.

Interior or exterior, Neopariés LT is installed similar to mirrors using adhesive mastic. TGP recommends the asphalt based Palmer Mirro-Mastic®. Other adhesives approved for exterior use may also be used.
